

Since Love Bids You Journey

Words: Robert Ellis Key

Music: Folk Song, arranged by Robert Rockabrand

Since Love bids you journey,
Love goes all the way,
No moment shall weary,
No thought go astray.
Your labour is fruitful,
Your efforts are blessed
Since Love bids you journey
At Spirit's behest.

Since Love bids you journey,
The way must be clear,
Truth's glory shall guide you,
Its presence be near.
No fear shall assail you
No evil dismay,
Since Love bids you journey,
Good goes all the way.

Since Love bids you journey,
The road is not long:
Each moment is joyous,
And fragrant with song.
The desolate hear you,
And joyfully say,
"Twas Love brought you hither,
To help us today."
